Austin's Homeless Receive Gift Of Water ARCH Gearing Up For Another Blistering Summer

Austin, (TX) – As summer temperatures set in, Front Steps is preparing to distribute nearly 80,000 bottles of water to the homeless thanks to a donation from the I Am Waters Foundation. Front Steps, which manages the Austin Resource Center for the Homeless, (ARCH), will each receive two tractor-trailer loads of bottled water from the I Am Waters Foundation for distribution to the homeless throughout the summer months.

The water will arrive at the Austin Resource Center for the Homeless on Thursday, June 13th and will be presented to the organizations by the Founder of I Am Waters, Mrs. Elena Davis.

The mission of the I Am Waters Foundation is to hydrate the bodies of homeless women, children and men who don't have access to life's most basic necessities. Water is on the top of that list. Since their inception, the IAW Foundation has provided one million bottles of water to the homeless in Texas and Louisiana, Thursday's delivery continues the legacy of giving.

Each bottle of water is designed with a simple inspirational message in a single word. "In the life of a person who is homeless, surviving comes before everything. Over time, life on the streets often erodes one's feelings of love, hope, and faith," says Elena Davis, the Foundation's founder and driving force behind the effort. "Holding a bottle with an inspirational word provides a powerful affirmation that is important for those who are not being replenished emotionally or spiritually."

"Water shouldn't be a luxury. Hydration is a fundamental need of the human body. Without it, Austin's homeless face heat exhaustion, stroke and permanently disabling conditions," says Mitchell Gibbs, Front Steps Executive Director. "The homeless in Austin have limited access to water resources. This donation will allow us to distribute up to 750 bottles of water per day – water that may save lives in our Texas heat this summer."

Front Steps will urge the homeless to reuse and recycle the plastic bottles. I Am Waters will provide recycling containers as part of the water donation. "We had great cooperation last year with recycling effort and use of our refilling station," said Gibbs. "The homeless are just grateful for an opportunity to cool down and rehydrate. Front Steps is grateful to the I Am Waters Foundation for making this program possible."
